Course number and section: SUST/THTR 204

Course Topic: Creative Communication and Engagement for Sustainability

Instructor: Denise Kenney

Course Description:

This course explores strategies designed to apply creative arts and skills for the purposes of communication, mediation, problem-solving, and constructive engagement with and between particular communities and disciplines. It challenges students' own sustainability knowledge and values. Students learn through hands-on experience as well as studio exercises, class discussions, lectures, assignments and readings.
